Description

Permanently engraved signs and tags by William Frick & Company are easy to view, simple to install and long lasting. Made of noncorrosive polyethylene, these markers stand up to even the harshest weather for as long as 20 to 30+ years. Sequential or random numbering is available. Great for small runs.

Use in a variety of applications

Signs and tags are an excellent choice for marking important equipment and critical assets, or for alerting workers to potential hazards. The prefabricated, one-piece construction can be used as a convenient alternative to channel markers. They fit well against wood poles and attach quickly using nails; order with a special film to keep wood preservatives from leeching through and discoloring the marker.
